Nedivim

Jonathan and Debbie Sassen have made a nedava to BTYA in honor of the birth and bris of their grandson!

Message from the Rav

Moraiy VeRabosaiy, and Ladies of BTYA:
The Shul is running a deficit of about 20,000 NIS a month. Since we cannot print or mint money, this is obviously unsustainable.

How is it sustained until now? Indeed?
One month, aliyos for yomim nora'im.
One month, maybe good for 2, a long-awaited dedication came through.

There was a huge Shavuos appeal almost a year ago, which covered several months of deficit.
Monies were "borrowed" from earmarked funds against future earnings.
Some bills are indeed not paid, just juggled: pay a little, defer a little, ignore a little.

The pity and irony of it all, is that what is killing us is the monthly payments (especially the interest) of the "loan money" that was borrowed in order to build the shul. Our "real" income vs. expenses is good, even very good. But that doesn't do us any good. Bills are bills.

In the last few weeks, a few people have spent very much time to analyze where the problem lies, and at least come up with various ideas that are more than a one-time infusion (though that would be ok too, if anyone has any ideas). Some of the ideas are good, some very good, and some not so good.

But from where I sit, none of the idea have even started to be attempted to be implemented.

Why? No one "has time."
Certainly the above-mentioned few people have no time--they unbelievably dedicated so much time just to analyze and come up with the ideas. But ideas don't pay bills.

And no one is stepping forward, from what I can see, to work on these ideas, or to come up with other ideas which they will then attempt to implement.

So what will be? In which month will the Shul default on bills that the creditor does not agree to mevater on?

Iyar? Sivan? Tamuz? I'm talking 5773, Rabbosaiy.
For more information, and to declare a willingness to do something, please contact Tzvi Gherman, Aryeh Sonnenberg, Moshe Lichtenstein, Joel Padowitz, or the Rav.

I am very grateful to Reb Yehuda Nyssen for taking the initiative and assuming the role of running AUB. In addition, I thank him for allowing me to stay involved by remaining responsible for AUB fundraising. Please help me to help Reb Yehuda make the "changing of the guard" as seamless as possible.

Sponsoring an AUB session costs only 100 NIS BUT is worth much more in זכויות! It facilitates more than 100 hours of Shabbos learning (more than 100 people, each learning 1 hour). Many Shabbosos are currently available. PLEASE sign up. תזכו למצוות! Mutti Frankel
