Lag Ba'Omer, 5775

Moraiy VeRabosaiy, and Ladies of Beis Tefillah Yonah Avraham

We are all reeling from the events of the last two days.

No, I am not talking about the aveilus of yemei sefirah, followed by Lag Ba'Omer. I'm not even talking about trying to form a coalition government, and finally succeeding.

I'm speaking, of course, about Yeshaya Shalom Ben Malka Gitel.

I had written a rather long, detailed, emotionally intense letter about Shai's matzav, his parents' matzav, and how we should relate to it and to them. And how Rebbetzin Heller is coming in a few days to help us do that.

That letter has now been shelved. BH!

But Shai still needs a refu'ah shleimah, and the next few days—and weeks—are extremely critical.

(Actually, we all need HaShem's constant bestowal of life and health every moment—may this be a good reminder.)

The good news “broke” between the printing of the ad/fliers (about Rebbetzin Heller's talk) and the sending of that letter.

Which we took to mean as follows:

Shai still needs our Tefillos. Shai's parents still need to stitch their lives back together—in so many areas.

And there are many other people we know and love who are having major issues—whether in their own health, their loved ones' health (physical and/or emotional), parnassah, shidduchim, relationships, or chinuch.

Local families. Our friends, neighbors, fellow-Shul members.

Families that support Torah and do chessed. Good people. Tov lashamayim, tov laberiyos.

Families torn apart by illness, parnassah and other issues.

Where normal living has to be put on hold.

Children, young adults, adults confused by deteriorating health, deteriorating parnassa or deteriorating relationships.

What can we do for them?

Though that extreme letter is no longer relevant as written, many fellow Jews are still in critical need of yeshu'os. (As Shai himself still is.) And we must be there for them in the most intense way that we can. As so many of us were—and continue to be—for Shai and his parents.

This Wednesday night, Rebbetzin Tziporah Heller will be addressing the women of the entire community on the topic of nesi'us ohl im chavero—feeling (really feeling) the distress and burdens of a fellow Jew (see accompanying ad). We will learn why it is important, indeed essential, in caring for another. And how it can result in very real, practical help. An answer to “what can we do?”

So many in our community find themselves in distress that I have taken the highly unusual step of having this talk be given in the Bais Medrash itself, on a week night (the ulam was unavailable).

I am plaintively asking all women who possibly can—to please come. Even if it means missing out on something else scheduled for that night. Too many matzavim demand it—and we will hopefully acquire the tools for “what we indeed can do.”

After all, that is precisely what nossei b'ohl teaches us we must do—to act as we would for our own child, our own family.

Because they are!

Rav Chaim Malinowitz

The shiur is dedicated to the refu'ah shleimah of Yeshaya Shalom ben Malka Gitel who, as this letter is being written, is recovering from surgery for his long-awaited liver transplant (BH). May he have a quick and complete recovery!
